Individualized Attention, Shared Aspirations
Dear colleague

We are pleased to present the final draft of Educating Illinois 2013–2018: Individualized Attention, Shared Aspirations for your consideration. During President Al Bowman’s State of the University Address in September 2011, the four vice presidents were charged with leading the process to revise the University’s strategic plan, along with an appointed task force that includes cross-representation of University constituents.

An initial draft was presented in August 2012 and a comprehensive consultation process followed that sought review and comment from the University and local communities. This process mirrored the consultation process undertaken during winter and spring 2012 that included open forums, focused discussions with campus and related groups, and an online survey. Additionally, the task force obtained information from an environmental scan as well as presentations from a wide variety of colleagues across campus on the challenges and opportunities facing Illinois State University.

As a result, Educating Illinois 2013–2018: Individualized Attention, Shared Aspirations serves as a campus guide for divisions, units, and offices in their planning and resource allocation decisions. Its success is dependent on the collective work of the University community. As such, we thank you for your willingness to participate in this planning process to ensure Educating Illinois charts the proper course for the University’s future—one characterized by increasing national recognition for Illinois State University as a leader for educating high-achieving, motivated students seeking an individualized and transformative experience.

Sincerely,

Educating Illinois Task Force co-chairs

Sheri Noren Everts, Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost
Dan Layzell, Vice President for Finance and Planning
Illinois State University—Illinois’ first public university—is poised to build on its heritage and accomplishments to achieve even greater levels of prominence in the years ahead. Nationally ranked, high-quality programs and services form the foundation of excellence at the University: Our commitment to providing individualized educational experiences sets Illinois State apart from other universities. An intentional focus on helping all members of the University community achieve their goals permeates who we are, what we do, and how we do it. This plan builds on the hallmark of individualized attention to set forth a vision, create goals and strategies, and articulate our shared aspirations for Illinois State University.

Since the beginning of this millennium, Educating Illinois has charted the course for the University, and the result has been unprecedented success. Student retention and graduation rates are at historic highs, and the academic profile of our student body remains very strong. The University has increased the number of tenure-track faculty to an all-time high and improved its technology and physical infrastructures. These achievements occurred despite difficult economic times and were made possible by the University’s responsible stewardship and intentional focus on priorities identified in Educating Illinois.

As the University looks to the future, the current economic environment suggests that levels of state support will remain flat, at best, and that the University will be expected to pay for programs such as employee retirement benefits heretofore paid for by the state of Illinois. Public concerns about the affordability of a four-year degree are likely to intensify. Collectively these factors will require us to re-examine the way we currently operate. To achieve greater levels of prominence, the University must implement thoughtful innovations and spend resources judiciously on well-defined strategic priorities.

Educating Illinois 2013–2018: Individualized Attention, Shared Aspirations articulates the vision, goals, and strategies for Illinois State University. This fourth iteration of the University’s strategic plan builds upon the accomplishments of previous plans to position the University to successfully navigate contemporary challenges and to capitalize on emerging opportunities. As in the past, the plan evolved through extensive consultation with the Illinois State community. Implementing Educating Illinois will require the concerted effort of all members of the University community. Each division, unit, and office is charged with advancing the goals and strategies of Educating Illinois through its planning, day-to-day activities, resource allocation, and data-informed evaluations to realize our shared aspirations.
Illinois State University, a first-choice public university, will be increasingly recognized as a national leader for educating high-achieving, motivated students who seek an individualized and transformative experience at an institution that:

- Offers premier undergraduate and graduate programs that integrate traditional knowledge and methods with emerging ideas and innovations
- Generates knowledge through high-quality research, scholarship, and creative activities
- Supports student learning and development inside and outside of the classroom
- Serves the region, state, nation, and world through its commitments to responsible stewardship, meaningful civic engagement, cultural enrichment, and the development of global citizens
We at Illinois State University work as a diverse community of scholars with a commitment to fostering a small-college atmosphere with large-university opportunities. We promote the highest academic standards in our teaching, scholarship, public service, and the connections we build among them. We devote all of our resources and energies to creating the most supportive and productive community possible to serve the citizens of Illinois and beyond.

Illinois State University is committed to achieving the vision, goals, and strategies set forth in Educating Illinois.

Upon its endorsement, a coordinating team will be charged with monitoring, measuring, and evaluating progress on the strategies and action steps taken to implement the plan. As the guiding planning document for the University, each division and unit is expected to review and revise existing strategic plans as well as resource allocations to ensure alignment with Educating Illinois. Any new planning documents developed should promote the vision, goals, and strategies articulated in Educating Illinois as well.

To build upon our recent achievements, difficult decisions will need to be made to guide resource allocations and to become even more efficient. New monies will not be available to support each strategy and action identified in the plan; support for new initiatives will need to be identified through reinvestment of staff time and reallocation of existing resources. Educating Illinois presents the guide for making these decisions.

As implementation of Educating Illinois proceeds, it will be important to regularly assess the progress being made to advance the goals and strategies included in the new plan. Selected indicators of success will be developed and reported on a regular basis. To document implementation progress, an annual report will be made to the Board of Trustees as well as to the entire university community. Progress will also be documented on the Educating Illinois website at IllinoisState.edu/EducatingIllinois. To ensure that the plan continues to address the needs of the future, Educating Illinois will be reviewed and updated in 2016.
Educating Illinois: 2013–2018
Planning process

In September 2011, President Bowman charged the four vice presidents to lead the process to revise the University's strategic plan. He also appointed and charged the Educating Illinois Task Force to:

Consult widely to develop a new strategic plan for Illinois State University. The new plan will build upon the success the University has realized over the last decade, and set forth a direction to further advance the University in the coming years.

To prepare for the final draft released in December 2012, a number of activities were undertaken to review the environment and seek input from the campus and local communities. A comprehensive environmental scan was prepared that illustrated both internal and external factors facing the University. The task force executed a widespread consultation process, before the first draft was released in August 2012 and immediately following, that included meeting with campus and related groups (listed below), open forums, and online surveys. Additionally, the task force held a two-day retreat where campus panels presented on various topics relating to the planning process.

The task force took the information and feedback it received from the consultation processes and formulated the final draft that includes a vision, four goals, and accompanying strategies.
